

NORTHERN AREA CAMPOUT
CINNABAR PARK
July 30th—Aug. 1st

The Northern Area campout at Cinnabar Park is fast approaching. This is one of the north's most fun campouts. If you snooze, you loose. We would like to fill the entire area this year. Cinnabar Park is near Rob Roy Reservoir west of Albany, WY. This isn't just for the Northern area; all are welcome and the more the merrier. Finding the park is easy. Proceed north on Hwy 287 to Laramie, WY. Take I-80 to exit 311, the Snowy Range Road. As you exit on 311, you will be on WY 230 & 130. Continue about 4 blocks west and WY 130 will branch to the right so you will be going toward Centennial—the road is well marked. Continue about 22 miles to the turn off at the Albany, Lake Owen and Rob Roy Reservoir cutoff. This road is WY 11. You will go about 12 miles to Albany where the road turns into Forest Service Road 500. Continue on FS 500. At about the 8 mile mark of FS 500, you will cross an inlet of Rob Roy Reservoir. There are guardrails on each side and a road at the end that turns right. This is FS 338. turn right and follow

FS 228. You will cross Douglas Creek and will come to a fork in the road. DO NOT TURN LEFT ON FS 338K, follow FS 338. You will curve to the right and start up a small hill for about a mile, and then you will come to the park. Watch for the signs. Bring something to grill and a side dish to share (salad, veggie, or dessert) for the Saturday night potluck. This is DRY camping. The water you bring is what you will have. There are no electrical hookups, and the best part - - - IT'S FREE. You can stop at Foster's in Laramie, at the turn off at I-80, to get any supplies you might have forgotten or to get a fishing license. We will be flying kites, hiking, fishing, and riding bikes so bring your entertainment. Call us if you plan to go. We really want to see you there.

Thanks
